The International Leaders in Education Program (ILEP) will provide approximately 64 teachers with a unique opportunity to develop greater expertise in their subject areas, enhance their teaching skills, and increase their knowledge about the United States. ILEP will commence in January 2018 and conclude in May 2018. ILEP is a semester-long non-degree, non-credit, professional development program at a U.S. university. The program provides academic seminars focusing on new teaching methodologies and strategies, leadership, curriculum development, lesson planning, and instructional technology training. All participants will receive a technology allowance to purchase laptops or other technology tools. Participants will audit two courses in the host university's School or Department of Education, and thus will be part of the general university community. The program will include a practicum of at least 90 hours with a U.S. partner teacher in a U.S. secondary school near the host university, to actively engage participants in the U.S. classroom environment. As part of the academic program, participants will work in groups to develop a unique teacher professional development module. Cultural enrichment, mentoring, and support will be provided throughout the program.

After returning home, teachers who successfully complete the program will be eligible to compete for small grants awards for essential teaching materials, follow-on training for other teachers, collaborative projects between participating American schools and, and other activities that build on the exchange experience.
